3-26-46 PREFACE

Since the last issue of Dod His Majesty has created 33 Peers. 33 Peers have died, 9 Peerages becoming extinct.

In the House of Commons, now increased to 640 seats by the creation of 25 new Constituencies, the result of the General Election in July brought into Office, for the third time, a Labour Administration by a majority of 200 over the supporters of the last Government.

The Editor desires to record his appreciation of the assistance he has received from Government Departments, from Members of both Houses of Parliament who have replied to his communications, and from others who have given information and so contributed to the execution of the Work.

November, 1945.

*.*Communications respecting the contents of this work should be addressed to the Editor of Dod, Business Dictionaries, Ltd., 133-137 Fetter Lane, London, E.C.4.

PARLIAMENTARY TERMS AND PROCEEDINGS.

* * In the following remarks the word House is to be understood to mean the House of Commons, unless it is obvious that it refers to the House of Lords or to either House.

ADJOURNMENT.—An adjournment terminates the sitting of the House, which meets again at the time appointed for the next sitting, or postpones consideration of the business on which the House is then engaged until a future day. The adjournment of the House is effected either by virtue of a Standing Order, or by Resolution of the House. (See Dilatory Motions; Business, Order and Transaction of; Count-out; Meeting, Hours of;ittings of Parliament; Conduct of Members.)

ADJOURNMENT TO DISCUSS A MATTER OF URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE.—Under Standing Order No. 8, a Member may rise in his place immediately after questions on any day except Friday and ask leave to move the adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance. The terms of the motion must be given in writing to the Speaker, who decides whether the motion fulfils the conditions. If it is in order he reads it out and asks whether the Member has the leave of the House. If leave is given unanimously, or if, on objection being taken, the Speaker asks those Members supporting the motion to rise in their places, and forty or more Members rise, the motion stands over for discussion at half-past seven on the same day. If forty Members do not support the motion it fails, unless not less than ten having risen, the Member demands a division and the majority are in favour of the motion.

AMENDMENTS. (See Motions and Selection of Amendments.)

APPROPRIATION BILL.—When all the grants necessary for the service of the year have been voted, the expenditure of each grant upon the service for which the grant is made is secured by the Appropriation Act, which closes the financial procedure of the year. (See also Supply and Ways and Means.)

BALLOTS FOR PRIVATE MEMBERS' BILLS AND MOTIONS.—Ballots are held to determine the precedence of bills and motions on the days set apart by Standing Order for Private Members' business. (See Private Members' Time.) The first ballot, which is held at the beginning of a session, settles the order in which bills are to be taken on the Fridays available, also the order of motions on the first four Wednesdays. A list is placed in the "No" division lobby on which Members enter their names during the sitting of the House on either the first or second day of the session, and on the third day (usually a Thursday) the draw takes place in a committee room. During the same sitting the successful Members give written notice at the table of the titles of their bills or of their motions, together with the dates selected. The bills are presented on the fourth day (Friday), and Members select dates for second reading.

Thereafter weekly ballots are held every Wednesday until the motion days are exhausted. These ballots are drawn in the House at the end of Questions, the Speaker calling the names of the successful Members, who rise in their places and give notice of their motions for specified dates. By giving written notice of the motion at the table during the same day the Member secures the place he has drawn.

Similarly, as soon as the Committee of Supply has been set up, a ballot is held in the House to decide the order of motions on first going into Committee of Supply on the annual estimates. (See Supply.)

BILLS (PUBLIC).—A bill is the draft of a statute. There are three methods of introducing bills. (1) By order of the House. A "Money" bill, i.e. a bill whose main object is the expenditure of money or the levying of taxation, requires to be preceded by a resolution passed in Committee of the whole House, and on the report stage of such resolution the bill is ordered to be brought in; but under Standing Order No. 64A, a Bill, the main object of which is the creation of a public charge may be presented or brought in upon an order of the House, by a Minister, the creation of the charge being authorised in Committee of the whole House after second reading (this does not apply to bills required to originate in Committee of Ways and Means). Some important Government measures not being money bills have been founded on resolutions. Under the old practice the introduction of a bill was preceded by a motion for leave to bring in a bill, but this method is not often used except in a restricted form under Standing Order No. 10, which authorises the Speaker to put the question after a brief explanation (limited to ten minutes) by the Member making such a motion, and by the Member who opposes. This procedure is known as the "Ten minute rule" (which see). (2) Presentation without previous order. The more common method of presenting a bill is under Standing Order No. 32 (2), which only requires notice of the title of the bill to be given for a specified day. (3) Brought from the Lords. In the case of a bill originating in the House of Lords, the Member who proposes to take charge of it in the Commons makes application at the table, when it is formally read a first time, ordered to be printed, and the date fixed for second reading.

The formalities to be observed in presenting a bill which has been ordered in on resolution or for which leave has been granted are as follows: The Speaker asks "who will prepare and bring in the bill." The Member who is in charge of the bill reads out the names of the Members. He then goes to the Bar of the House, and on being called by the Speaker, walks up to the table and hands the "dummy" bill to the Clerk, who reads the short title. The bill is read the first time and ordered to be printed, and the date fixed for the second reading. In the case of a bill presented in the more usual manner under Standing Order No. 32 (2), the Member, on being called by the Speaker, comes up to the table from behind the Speaker's Chair and hands the "dummy" bill to the Clerk, who reads the title. The bill is then deemed to have been read the first time and ordered to be printed, and the date is fixed for second reading.

The "dummy" bill is the document which a Member obtains beforehand from the Public Bill Office, giving the title, and the names of the Members presenting and supporting the bill, or the names of the Members who intend to prepare and bring it in. The names on the back of a bill may not exceed twelve.

In the House of Lords any peer may present a bill without notice.

The second reading, which is the next stage, is not taken until the bill has been published and a copy furnished to every Member. The question is proposed "That the bill be now read a second time," and it is open to any Member opposed to the bill to move an amendment to leave out the word "now" and add the words "on this day three months" or "on this day six months," whichever date is later than the time at which the session is expected to end. This is a polite way of rejecting the bill. A Member can also move a reasoned amendment, giving the reasons why the bill should not be given a second reading. When a bill has received a second reading it is referred automatically to a Standing Committee, unless the House decides, on motion being made immediately after second reading, to commit the bill to a Committee of the whole House or to a Select Committee. Bills imposing taxes, and Consolidated Fund and Appropriation Bills are always referred to a Committee of the whole House after second reading. A Bill may be committed to a Standing Committee in respect of some of its provisions, and to a Committee of the whole House in respect of other provisions.

The Committees have power to make any amendments they think fit relevant to the subject matter of the bill. The bill is considered clause by clause and sometimes largely remodelled.

Where the creation of a charge on the public revenue is a subsidiary feature of a bill, the particular words are printed in italics. Before clauses involving charges can be considered in Committee a resolution must be passed in Committee of the whole House, and agreed to by the House, authorising the proposed expenditure. Words printed in italics, known as blanks, are agreed to without any question being put, unless exception be taken thereto. The Committee stage being concluded, the bill is reported to the House with or without amendments. The Report stage may be a formal stage. If no amendments have been made, the bill is ordered to be read the third time; but if amendments have been made, it is ordered to be considered, usually on a future day. When the order of the day for consideration of the bill is read the House proceeds to consider it without any question being put, unless a motion is made to recommit the bill. A motion to recommit a bill to the Committee which considered it, or to any other Committee, may be general or relate to some particular provision of the bill. If such a motion is opposed, the Speaker may permit a brief explanatory statement from the mover and from the Member who opposes, and then put the question without further debate. A bill may be recommitted any number of times, also on third reading.

On the report stage, amendments to meet points raised in Committee and reserved for consideration are proposed, and other changes may be made. New clauses, of which notice must be given, are taken first. The bill is not considered clause by clause, but is dealt with as a whole, amendments being moved by reference to the particular line and page. In Committee a Member may speak more than once, but on the report stage he has the right to speak once only, unless in the case of a bill which has been considered by a standing committee, when the rule is relaxed in so far as the Member in charge of the bill, or the mover of any amendment or new clause (in respect of that amendment or clause), is concerned.

Then comes the third reading stage, when the House expresses judgment on the bill as it finally stands. In the Lords at this stage amendments of substance can be made, but in the Commons verbal amendments only can be proposed. As in the case of the second reading, amendments may be proposed to reject the bill. The question "that the bill do pass" according to present usage is not put to the House.

A division on the second reading and on the third reading offers a direct challenge to the principle of the bill, while the committee and report stages present many opportunities of dividing on details. More than one stage of a money bill cannot be taken at the same sitting unless the House decide otherwise, and in the case of ordinary bills an interval is normally allowed between the various stages, except that the third reading is usually taken immediately after the conclusion of the report stage or, if no amendments have been made in Committee, as soon as the bill has been reported therefrom. In special circumstances, by consent of the House, bills have been passed through all their stages at the same sitting.

The bill having been passed by the Commons, the Clerk of the House takes it up to the Lords with a message desiring their Lordships' concurrence. In the Lords the bill passes through the same stages as in the Commons, and after second reading is committed to a committee of the whole House. Pursuant to Standing Order, a Commons bill which has remained twelve days on the table of the House of Lords cannot be proceeded with save upon eight days' notice. When the Lords agree with the Commons in the principle of the measure, but differ on matters of detail, they return the bill with amendments to which the Commons agree, with or without amendments, or disagree. If no amendments are made in the Lords, or amendments made to which the Commons agree, the bill then only awaits the royal assent. Disagreement between the two Houses is sometimes removed by one House not insisting on its amendments or an alternative proposal being found acceptable. If no agreement can be reached the bill is lost. The same proceedings are adopted mutatis mutandis when the bill originates in the Upper House. A bill for a general pardon or act of grace originates with the Crown, and is read once only in each House.

Under the Parliament Act, 1911, if a money bill, having been passed by the House of Commons, and sent up to the House of Lords at least one month before the end of the session, is not passed by the Lords without amendment within one month after it has been sent up, the bill shall, unless the House of Commons direct to the contrary, be presented to the Sovereign and become an Act on the Royal Assent being given, notwithstanding that the House of Lords have not consented to the bill.

If any public bill (other than a money bill) is passed by the House of Commons in three successive sessions—whether of the same Parliament or not—and, having been sent up to the House of Lords at least one month before the end of the session, is rejected by the Lords in each of these sessions, that bill shall, on its rejection for the third time by the Lords, unless the House of Commons direct to the contrary, be presented to the Sovereign and become an Act on the Royal Assent being given, notwithstanding that the Lords have not consented to the bill. This provision shall not take effect unless two years have elapsed between the date of the second reading in the first of those sessions in the House of Commons and the date on which it passes in the third session.

When a bill is presented to the Sovereign under the above provisions there shall be endorsed on the bill the certificate of the Speaker, signed by him, that the necessary provisions have been complied with.

A bill having passed both Houses remains with the Lords, except in the case of a bill of supply, which is sent back to the Commons, to be by them presented at the bar of the Lords to the Sovereign or the Royal Commissioners. The assent of the Crown is the final proceeding which converts a bill into an Act of Parliament, which is printed by the King's printer on vellum, and preserved in the House of Lords. (See Royal Assent; Origin of Bills; Money Bill.)

BILLS (PRIVATE).—Private bill legislation is regulated by a separate set of Standing Orders, and includes private bills and provisional order bills. Private bills may be defined briefly as bills for the particular benefit of any person or body of persons; the majority are local in character, their object being usually to give powers to public utility companies, local authorities or other public bodies, or to enable private individuals associated together to undertake works of public utility at their own risk and, in a degree, for their own benefit; but there are other private bills dealing with naturalization, change of name, divorce, or for perfecting titles to estates, which always originate in the House of Lords. All private bills originate by petition, and the Lord Chairman of Committees and the Chairman of Ways and Means decide in which House the bills shall first be considered. After second reading they are referred to special committees which act as quasi-judicial bodies, examining witnesses and hearing counsel for and against the bill. A public bill found to affect private interests is examined in relation to the Standing Orders on private business and, if in order, proceeds as a hybrid bill, and after second reading is referred to a select committee.

Provisional order bills effect the purpose of a private bill and are obtainable more rapidly and at a less cost. The object of a provisional order bill is to give statutory force to orders made by Government departments in pursuance of powers conferred by statute, and in some cases the introduction of the bill is preceded by a local enquiry conducted by the department concerned. In certain cases the provisional order procedure has been superseded by a system of special orders. The Board of Trade and Ministry of Transport have power to issue to local authorities draft orders relating to gas and electricity which, however, do not become operative until they are approved by resolution of both Houses of Parliament. Private legislation in Scotland is dealt with mainly by provisional orders made under the Private Legislation Procedure (Scotland) Act, 1936. Unopposed private business is considered at the commencement of the sitting, and opposed private business may be set down for discussion at half-past seven on days appointed by the Chairman of Ways and Means. (See Chairman of Committees of the whole House and Chairman of Ways and Means.)

BLACK ROD (Gentleman Usher of the).—The gentleman usher of the Black Rod is an officer of the House of Lords. His duties correspond to those of the Serjeant-at-Arms in the House of Commons, and he executes the orders for the commitment of persons guilty of breaches of privilege and contempt. At the opening and proroguing of Parliament and when the Royal Assent is given to bills he is sent to desire the attendance of the Commons in the House of Peers, and assists at the introduction of peers and other ceremonies. He has an assistant, the Yeoman Usher.

BLOCKING OF BILLS.—In the Commons proceedings on a bill can be "blocked" after eleven o'clock (four o'clock on Fridays), when the orders are read over on the conclusion of the business of the day, by a Member calling "I object." If the sitting is prolonged beyond the usual hour of rising, a similar objection can be made to any order when it is read. It thus becomes opposed business and must be deferred until another day.

BUDGET (THE).—The Chancellor of the Exchequer makes a general statement every year to the House of Commons, in Committee of Ways and Means, which has for a long time past been called "the Budget." This statement is based on a review of the income and expenditure of the last year, and estimates of those of the ensuing year, with remarks upon the financial prospects of the country, and an exposition of the proposed repeal, modifications, or imposition of taxes. Resolutions to give effect to the proposals are submitted, and upon them the Finance Bill of the year is founded. This bill is subject to the usual procedure, except that, having originated in Committee of Ways and Means, its various stages must be taken on different days, and it may be discussed after eleven o'clock.

In the interests of the revenue all the taxing resolutions are usually agreed to after the Budget statement. The Ways and Means resolutions renewing or varying existing taxes (but not resolutions imposing new taxes) may include a declaration under the Provisional Collection of Taxes Act, 1913, which gives them the force of law in advance of the passing of the Finance Bill. The resolutions continue to have statutory force if they are agreed to on report within ten sitting days after they are agreed to in committee and if the Finance Bill is read a second time within twenty sitting days after the report of the resolutions to the House and receives the royal assent within four months after the date the resolutions are passed in committee. (See Ways and Means.)

unopposed Private Business is taken and, except on Fridays, Questions are put to Ministers. New Members returned at by-elections are usually introduced after Questions and take the oath or make the affirmation. Motions for leave to move the adjournment of the House on matters of urgent public importance are made, and the Speaker calls the name of any Member who has given notice of business coming under the heading of "At the commencement of public business," which includes notice of presentation of a bill, Government motions relating to the business or sittings of the House, and motions for leave to bring in a bill under the "Ten minutes rule." On Fridays questions are not usually asked, and neither motions for leave to bring in bills nor motions for the adjournment on matters of urgent public importance can be made. The main business of the day is reached when the Speaker calls on the Clerk to read the orders of the day, or calls on the Member whose motion stands first on the list of notices or who is otherwise entitled to precedence. If the order of the day is for committee on a bill or money resolution the Speaker leaves the Chair and the Chairman of Ways and Means presides over the committee.

During the session Government business has precedence at every sitting, except on the Wednesdays and Fridays which are set apart at the beginning of the session for Private Members' business. (See Private Members' Time.)

At half-past seven the business under consideration must be interrupted if leave has been given to move the adjournment of the House on a matter of urgent public importance, or if opposed private business has been set down by the Chairman of Ways and Means. The business interrupted is resumed on the conclusion of the business which caused the postponement.

The business of the day, unless it is exempted business, normally finishes at eleven, and the half-hour until half-past eleven is then available for minor unopposed bills to be proceeded with, but more frequently is utilised by a Member raising a debate on the motion for the adjournment of the House (e.g. arising out of an unsatisfactory answer to a question). At half-past eleven the Speaker leaves the Chair and the sitting comes to an end. But the consideration of exempted business or business specially exempted by order of the House may be continued beyond eleven o'clock until any hour without interruption. At its conclusion the Speaker adjourns the House.

Opposed business can only be taken after eleven at any sitting if it is exempted business or if it has been exempted under a motion for the suspension of the eleven o'clock rule passed by the House at the commencement of the sitting. Exempted business includes all stages of a bill originating in Committee of Ways and Means (e.g. Finance Bill); reports of money committees and of the Committee of Ways and Means, but not reports of supply; proceedings in pursuance of any act of parliament or standing order, and the Army and Air Force (Annual) Bill. On Fridays there is no half-hour for a debate on the motion for the adjournment, and opposed business can only be taken after four o'clock if the House so orders on a motion made by a minister.

The House of Lords meets for judicial business in the morning and for legislative business in the afternoon. On Wednesdays unofficial motions have precedence over bills and other business.

CHAIRMAN OF WAYS AND MEANS.—This officer of the House of Commons—always a Member—is appointed by the House on motion made by the Leader of the House on the assembling of every new Parliament. It is his duty to preside whenever the House is in Committee whether on bills or any other Committee of the whole House; he sits, not in the Speaker's chair, but at the table in the seat of the Clerk of the House. The only occasion when he votes, in committee, is in giving the casting vote, if on a division the numbers happen to be equal. With the assistance of the Speaker's Counsel he examines Private Bills to satisfy himself that they comply with the rules of the House. If the unavoidable absence of the Speaker is announced to the House by the Clerk, the Chairman of Ways and Means acts as Deputy-Speaker and performs the duties and exercises the authority of Speaker in relation to all proceedings, until the close of the sitting; or he takes the chair on the request of the Speaker. A Deputy-Chairman is also appointed at the commencement of every new Parliament, who, in the absence of the Chairman, is entitled to exercise all the powers of the Chairman of Ways and Means, including those as Deputy-Speaker. The Speaker nominates at the commencement of every session, a Chairmen's Panel of not less than ten Members to act as temporary Chairmen of Committees when requested by the Chairman of Ways and Means. From this Panel, of whom the Chairman of Ways and Means and the Deputy Chairman shall be ex-officio members, Mr. Speaker appoints the Chairman of each Standing Committee and may change the Chairman so appointed from time to time. The Chairmen's Panel, of whom three are a quorum, have power to report their resolutions on matters of procedure relating to Standing Committees from time to time to the House. (See Speaker of the House of Commons, duties of.)

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.—In the Commons, the Chairman of Committees of the whole House is usually the Chairman of Ways and Means; in the Lords he is elected by the House every Session, and usually holds in addition the office of Deputy-Speaker. The Chairman of Committees in the House of Lords and the Chairman of Ways and Means in the Commons are entrusted with important duties relating to the examination and supervision of private bill legislation.

CHILTERN HUNDREDS.—A Member cannot relinquish his seat, but a way is provided to relieve him of his responsibilities, if he wishes to resign. The acceptance of the office of steward or bailiff of His Majesty's Three Chiltern Hundreds of Stoke, Desborough and Burnham, or that of the steward of the manor of Northstead (which are nominally offices of profit under the Crown), legally vacates his seat. The office is granted, unless reasons exist for refusing the application, by the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Both offices are excluded from the operation of the Re-election of Ministers Act (1919) Amendment Act, 1926, which completely removed the necessity of a Member of the House of Commons accepting any of the more important ministerial offices vacating his seat and seeking re-election. (See Writs.)

CLERK OF THE PARLIAMENTS.—He, as Clerk of the House of Lords, is responsible for the due record and publication of the proceedings and journals of the House. In this duty he is assisted by the Clerk Assistant and the Reading Clerk, who sit with him at the table of the House. He is also responsible for the due conduct of the business of the House in the departments under his control, and he appoints the clerks attached thereto. He signifies the Royal Assent to the bills agreed upon by both Houses of Parliament. He endorses the bills communicated between the two Houses, and signs orders for the attendance of witnesses, and other orders of the House. The Clerk of the Parliaments is appointed by the Crown under letters patent. The Clerk Assistant and the Reading Clerk are appointed by the Lord Chancellor.

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.—His duty towards the House of Commons is analogous to the duties which devolve on the Clerk of the Parliaments as Clerk of the House of Lords. He sits with the two Clerks Assistant at the table of the House. He reads aloud all such documents as are by custom or order read to the House; he performs the duty (from his place at the table) of president or moderator during the choice of a Speaker, putting, if a difference occurs thereon, the questions consequent on that occasion, and directing, if necessary, the House to divide upon the question. The Clerk of the House is appointed by the Crown by letters patent, and the Clerks Assistant by royal warrant.

CLOSURE OF DEBATE (HOUSE OF COMMONS).—In order to bring a debate to a close, a Member may rise and claim to move "That the question be now put," and unless the motion appears to the Speaker or, in committee, to the Chairman of Ways and Means or deputy Chairman to be an abuse of the rules of the House or an infringement of the rights of the minority, it is put to the vote at once, and if it is carried the original question is then put without further debate. The closure cannot be moved in the House with the deputy Speaker in the Chair unless the absence of the Speaker has been previously announced to the House, and, in committee of the whole House, a temporary chairman cannot accept such a motion. A closure motion is not carried unless at least one hundred Members vote in its support. The chairman of a Standing Committee has power to accept a motion for the closure, and twenty Members are required in support of the motion.

A more drastic form of closure is occasionally applied in order to expedite the passage of important Government bills which may be subject to prolonged debate. These motions, known as "closure by compartments" or "guillotine" motions, subject the bill through all its stages to a strict time schedule. (See Selection of Amendments.)

COMMITTALS FOR BREACH OF PRIVILEGE.—In common with courts of law, the Houses of Parliament can punish all contempts of their authority, or repress any aggression committed upon their rights or privileges; but in the case of the Commons the operation of this power is limited to the session of Parliament, committals by that House being annulled by a prorogation. Persons committed to prison for contempt cannot be liberated on bail.

COMMITTEES.—A Committee of the whole House is the House itself presided over by a Chairman instead of by the Speaker. Committees are appointed to consider bills in detail, clause by clause, and also resolutions authorising the expenditure of public money ("money resolutions"). More rarely, a resolution is agreed to in a Committee of the whole House as a preliminary to the introduction of a bill dealing with important matters. The Committees of Supply and Ways and Means are also committees of the whole House, which mainly discharge the financial duties of the House of Commons concerning the grant of public money and the levying of taxation. The Speaker leaves the Chair without putting any question whenever the order is read for the House to go into committee, except when first going into Committee of Supply on the annual estimates. The Mace is placed under the table, and the Chairman of Ways and Means, or in his absence the deputy chairman, takes the chair at the table. (See Chairman of Committees of the whole House and Chairman of Ways and Means.)

The Standing Orders provide for the appointment of five Standing Committees for the consideration of bills. (See Bills (Public).) The procedure in these committees is the same as in Select Committees, unless the House otherwise orders, and strangers are admitted, except when the Committee orders them to withdraw. The Standing Orders provide that Committees may sit during the sitting and notwithstanding any adjournment of the House on any day on which the House has sat. On a division being called in the House, the Chairman of a Standing Committee suspends the proceedings of the committee for such time as will in his opinion enable Members to vote in the division.

Notices of amendments to clauses in Bills committed to a Standing Committee, given in the House, stand referred to such Committee. Twenty is the quorum of a Standing Committee. A Standing Committee consists of not less than thirty nor more than fifty Members, nominated by the Committee of Selection, who have power to discharge Members for non-attendance or at their own request and to appoint others in their place. For the consideration of any public bill relating exclusively to Wales and Monmouthshire a Standing Committee must comprise all members for these constituencies. The Committee of Selection have power to add not less than ten nor more than thirty-five members to a Standing Committee in respect of any bill referred to it, to serve on the Committee during the consideration of such bill and in so doing the Committee of Selection must have regard to the composition of the House, and to the qualifications of the members selected.

One of the Standing Committees is appointed for the consideration of all public bills relating exclusively to Scotland, and consists of all the members for Scottish constituencies, together with not less than ten nor more than fifteen other members to be nominated in respect of any bill by the Committee of Selection.

Government bills have precedence in all the Standing Committees except one, in which preference is given to Private Members' bills. Bills committed to Standing Committees are distributed among the committees by Mr. Speaker. In 1921 such slow progress was made with the Railways Bill by the Standing Committee to which it had been referred, that the Government adopted the expedient of dividing the Bill into two, leaving one part with the original Standing Committee and sending the other part to a second Standing Committee, so securing the passing of the Bill by an appointed time.

Standing Orders as to irrelevance and repetition and the closure apply to Standing Committees, with the exception that a majority of twenty is necessary for the closure. The Chairman of a Standing Committee has the same powers as the Chairman of a Committee of the whole House has under the Standing Order as to dilatory motions, and the selection of amendments. (See Selection of Amendments.)

Select Committees are appointed to inquire into and to report to the House on special matters or to consider bills. These Committees may not exceed fifteen Members without leave of the House, and they are usually given power to send for persons, papers and records. The quorum of a Select Committee is laid down in the order of reference under which it is appointed. Joint Select Committees of both Houses are also appointed. There are also committees appointed to consider business relating to private bill legislation and committees whose function it is to consider private bills. (See Bills, Private.) The House of Commons or any Committee thereof is enabled to administer oaths to witnesses; and any person wilfully giving false evidence is liable to the penalties of perjury. (See Privileges of Parliament.)

COMMONS, HOUSE OF.—See House of Commons.

CONDUCT OF MEMBERS.—The Speaker, or the Chairman, orders Members whose conduct is grossly disorderly to withdraw immediately from the House during the remainder of the day's sitting. If, however, the Member refuses to withdraw from the House, and the Speaker or the Chairman deems that his powers under the Standing Order are inadequate, he may name such Member. When a Member has been named by the Speaker or by the Chairman for disregarding the authority of the Chair, a motion is usually made by the Leader of the House that the Member be suspended from the service of the House.

For the first offence the period of suspension is until the fifth sitting day counting from the day the Member is suspended, for the second offence during the same session until the twentieth sitting day, and for a subsequent offence the House determines when the period of suspension shall end. If a Member who has been suspended refuses to obey the direction of the Speaker to withdraw from the House when summoned under the Speaker's orders by the Serjeant-at-Arms to obey the direction, the Speaker calls the attention of the House to the fact that recourse to force is necessary to compel obedience to his direction, and in such a case the Member named by him is suspended for the remainder of the session. A Member suspended is excluded from the precincts of the House, but still serves on a private bill committee if he is a member of such a committee.

In the event of grave disorder arising in the House, the Speaker has the power to adjourn the House or suspend the sitting for a certain time.

The Chair calls to order a Member who persists in irrelevance or tedious repetition of either his own arguments or the arguments of others in debate, and has power to direct him to discontinue his speech. (See Naming a Member.)

CONSOLIDATED FUND, THE, is the fund formed of the proceeds of taxation, and other sums received by the Treasury in behalf of the Crown, in order that a fund may be provided "into which shall flow every stream of the public revenue, and from whence shall issue the supply for every public service." (See Supply and Ways and Means.)

CONTEMPT OF PARLIAMENT.—See Committals.

COUNT-OUT.—The quorum of the House of Commons is forty Members, including the Speaker.

The House is counted out and adjourned until the next sitting day if, on any Member calling the attention of the Chair to the fact that a quorum is not present, forty Members do not assemble within two minutes in response to the ringing of the division bells, or if the figures of a division show less than forty Members voting. If forty Members are not present when the Speaker takes the Chair, the sitting is suspended, and the Speaker resumes the Chair when forty Members have assembled or at four o'clock. If at four o'clock he finds, on counting the House, that forty Members are not present, he adjourns the House. The House cannot be counted out between a quarter past eight and a quarter past nine, and if a division taken during this period shows the absence of a quorum, the business on which the division was taken is passed over and the next item called. On Fridays the House cannot be counted out until after one o'clock.

The Chairman in Committee of the whole House follows the same procedure and leaves the Chair if forty Members are not present. The Speaker then resumes the Chair, and on the Chairman making his report counts the House, and if he finds that forty Members are not present he adjourns the House.

CROWN.—The prerogatives and functions of the Crown may be summed up under the following heads: To give or refuse to bills the "Royal Assent" (which see); to cause the due administration and execution of the laws; to act on behalf of the whole community in its intercourse with Foreign States, and as a part of that, to declare war or conclude peace; to direct the naval and military force of the country; to administer the public revenue; to prorogue or dissolve Parliament; to create peers; and to coin money. The monarch is the supreme governor of the Church; the source of justice and of mercy, of all offices, honours, emoluments, and chartered rights. But in every case the sovereign acts by ministers who are amenable to Parliament, and the choice of those ministers is the only prerogative which can be constitutionally exercised without responsible advisers; but even over this there is much Parliamentary control, for the royal favour can have no practical effect unless it rest upon men whose characters and measures prove generally acceptable to both Houses.

DEBATE, RULES OF.—A Member desiring to speak rises in his place uncovered, and addresses himself to Mr. Speaker; but, except in Committee, no Member may speak twice to a question, unless in explanation or reply, which is allowed to a Member who has made a substantive motion. When two or more Members rise to speak, Mr. Speaker calls upon the Member who first

"catches the Speaker's eye." A new Member, who has not yet spoken, is generally called upon, by courtesy, in preference to other Members rising at the same time. A Member who has moved the adjournment of a debate is, if he claims the privilege, allowed precedence in addressing the House when the debate is resumed, or he may subsequently join in the debate; and a Member speaking when a debate has been adjourned on an interruption under the standing orders is allowed to continue his speech when the debate is resumed. A Member may not read his speech, but he may refresh his memory by reference to notes. It is out of order in debate for any Member to speak from below the bar; to mention any Member by name except the Chairman when in committee; to speak in direct terms of any proceedings of the other House; or to refer to opinions of the Sovereign, speeches from the throne and royal messages being treated as sentiments of the ministry which the Sovereign utters or communicates on their responsibility; or to refer to matters pending a judicial decision; or to use insulting or offensive words. A Member who rises to speak must direct his speech to the question before the House, or to a motion or amendment which he intends to move, or to a question of order. When an amendment has been moved which seeks to substitute for a motion words more or less at variance thereto, debate is not restricted to the amendment, but includes the motive of the amendment and of the motion, both matters being under the consideration of the House, as alternative propositions; but if the amendment be to leave out or to add words only, debate is restricted to the desirability of the omission or the addition of those words.

No Member may speak to any question after the same has been fully put by Mr. Speaker; and a question is fully put when the Speaker has collected the voices both of the Ayes and of the Noes. A point of order may be raised with the Chair during the progress of a division, but the Member raising it must remain seated and covered. (The rule as to wearing a hat does not, however, apply to lady members.) By the indulgence of the House, a Member may make a personal explanation, although there be no question before the House; but no debatable matter may be brought forward, or debate arise upon the explanation. A Member present during a debate must not interrupt in a disorderly manner or cross the House between the Chair and the Member speaking, and must be uncovered and bow to the Chair when entering and leaving the House. (See Closure, etc.)

In the House of Lords the rules of debate differ in some respects from those observed in the Commons. In debate a Peer addresses the rest of the Peers in general. No Peer may speak twice except in committee, or in explanation or reply. Motions need not be seconded. The Peer who sits on the Woolsack or in the Chair when in committee has no duties to perform except put the question. He is not the judge or guardian of order. If several Peers rise together, the House decides who shall first be heard.

DILATORY MOTIONS.—In order to bring about the adjournment of business to another day, a Member may move the adjournment of the House or of the debate, and, in committee, that the Chairman do report progress or do leave the Chair. But the Speaker or Chairman has the power, if of opinion that such a motion is an abuse of the rules of the House, to put the question thereon forthwith from the Chair, or to decline to put the question to the House.

DISSOLUTION.—See Sittings of Parliament.

DIVISIONS, MODE OF TAKING.—After the Question has been put by the Speaker, or Chairman, and his statement as to the preponderance of the "Ayes" or "Noes," as the case may be, has been challenged, he gives the order "clear the lobby," the tellers' doors in both lobbies are locked, and the division bells are rung for the assembling of Members. After the lapse of two minutes the question is again put, and if the statement from the Chair is again challenged, the Speaker, or Chairman, directs the "Ayes" to go into the Right Lobby and the "Noes" into the Left Lobby, and names tellers for each party. As the Members pass through the lobbies, the Division Clerks mark their names on lists, and their number is counted by the tellers. After the lapse of six minutes from the time the order is given to clear the lobby the doors leading into both lobbies are ordered to be locked, and remain locked until the figures are declared. The result being reported by the teller to the Speaker, or Chairman, he declares the number to the House. A Member may vote in a division although he did not hear the question put. A Member is not obliged to vote. (See also Speaker of the House of Commons.)

DIVISIONS UNNECESSARILY CLAIMED.—The Speaker or the Chairman may, if in his opinion a division is unnecessarily claimed, take the vote of the House or Committee by calling upon the Members who support and who challenge his decision successively to rise in their places, and he shall thereupon, as he thinks fit, either declare the determination of the House or Committee or name tellers for a Division.

ELEVEN O'CLOCK RULE (SUSPENSION OF), AND EXEMPTED BUSINESS.—See Meeting, Hours of, and Business, Order of, etc.

HOUSE OF LORDS.—The House of Lords has jurisdiction as a Court of Ultimate Appeal. The Lords of Appeal consist of the Lord Chancellor (presiding) and seven Lords of Appeal in ordinary, three constituting a quorum, and may also include such Peers of Parliament as hold or have held high judicial office; there is nothing to prevent other Lords also attending. The Lords of Appeal in ordinary receive each a life peerage as baron, conferring a seat in the House of Lords.

The House usually sits in the morning for judicial business and in the afternoon for legislative business. Three Peers, including the Lord Chancellor or the Peer on the Woolsack, make a quorum of the House. A commission for giving the royal assent in itself constitutes a House. If on a division upon any stage of a bill thirty Peers are not present, the question is not decided and the debate adjourned to the next sitting. It is contrary to the Commons' privileges that the House of Lords should initiate or amend bills dealing with public expenditure or revenue, and bills or amendments of such a nature are therefore laid aside or disagreed to by the Commons, but the House of Lords can reject a money bill.

Privy Councillors and Peers' eldest sons are admitted to the steps of the Throne during a debate, and accommodation is provided in the side galleries for peeresses, ambassadors and other distinguished persons. The Press Gallery and the Strangers' Gallery are above the Bar.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.—The House used to sit in St. Stephen's Chapel, the chapel of the Royal Palace of Westminster, until the year 1834, when that building was largely destroyed by fire. St. Stephen's Hall now occupies the site of the original debating Chamber; but the basement storey of St. Stephen's Chapel still exists and contains the crypt chapel. When the Palace was rebuilt after the fire of 1834, the Commons debating chamber was placed in the Northern part of the building, the Speaker's chair facing due South, towards the Central Lobby and the House of Lords; this chamber was first used in 1850. It was destroyed by enemy action on 10th May, 1941, and on 28th October, 1943, a Select Committee was appointed to consider and report on plans for the rebuilding of the House "and upon such alterations as may be considered desirable while preserving all its essential features." It may be expected, therefore, that the new chamber will assume a generally similar form. The lately destroyed chamber was furnished with galleries on all four sides. That above the Speaker's chair was used by press reporters and shorthand writers for the Official Report of Debates (Hansard). Facing it, at the other end of the chamber, were seats reserved for peers, members of the diplomatic corps, representatives of the Dominions, and members of the public, to whom the larger portion of the gallery was assigned, and who obtained access by orders obtainable by Members. The two side galleries were available for Members, who could, in theory, address the House therefrom, though this was seldom done. Above the reporters' gallery was a gallery reserved for ladies, who were secluded behind a grating until 1917; in 1918 they were admitted to the public gallery (known as the "Member's gallery") on equal terms with men. The galleries were opened as soon as the Speaker took the chair. Similar arrangements have been in force in the Lords' debating chamber, which the House of Commons have occupied since the destruction of their own. (See Women in the Commons.)

LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR.—The Lord High Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal is also Speaker of the House of Lords. He is usually, but not necessarily, a Peer. When royal commissions are issued for opening the Session, for giving the royal assent to bills, or for proroguing Parliament, the Lord Chancellor is usually one of the Commissioners, and reads the royal speech upon the occasion. When the Sovereign opens or closes the Session in person the Lord Chancellor stands on the right of the throne and hands to the Monarch the speech opening or terminating the session of Parliament. (See Speaker of House of Lords.)

LORDS, HOUSE OF.—See House of Lords.

LORDS AND COMMONS (HOUSES OF), CONFLICTS BETWEEN.—See Bills.

MEETING, HOURS OF.—The House of Commons meets at a quarter to three on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and rises normally between eleven and half-past, unless exempted business or business specially exempted by order of the House is under discussion, when the sitting is continued until any hour. (See Business, Order and Transaction of.) On Friday the House meets at eleven o'clock and usually rises at four o'clock, although the Speaker has the power to adjourn the House at the end of the business on the paper or not later than half-past four. The House does not sit on Saturday, but when it does, it usually meets at noon.

The House of Lords meets for legislative business on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at a quarter-past four, and on Wednesday at a quarter to four, and when there is no judicial business the House sometimes meets at three o'clock. The House meets on Friday only when the exigencies of business render it necessary. When there is judicial business for consideration the Lords meet in the morning, usually at half-past ten. No hour is fixed for the adjournment of the House, the question being put by the Lord Speaker at the conclusion of business and agreed to by the House.

On the day the King opens Parliament both Houses meet a little before twelve, at which hour the speech from the Throne is delivered in the House of Peers. The sittings in both Houses are then suspended until the afternoon, the Lords resuming for business at a quarter to four and the Commons at a quarter to three. (See New Parliament and Session.)

MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.—See Business, etc., in Parliament; Chiltern Hundreds; Conduct of Members; Privileges of Parliament; Sittings of the House; Writs.

MONEY BILL.—The Parliament Act defines a money bill as a public bill which, in the opinion of the Speaker, contains only provisions dealing with any of the following subjects—the imposition, repeal, remission, alteration, or regulation of taxation; the imposition for the payment of debt or other financial purposes of charges on the Consolidated Fund, or on money provided by parliament, or the variation or repeal of any such charges; supply; the appropriation, receipt, custody, issue or audit of accounts of public money; the raising, or guarantee, or the repayment of any loan. The expressions, “taxation,” “public money,” and “loan,” do not include any raised by local authorities or bodies for local purposes. Every money bill when sent up to the House of Lords, and when presented to the Sovereign, shall be endorsed with the certificate of the Speaker, signed by him, that it is a money bill. Before giving his certificate the Speaker shall consult, if practicable, two members appointed from the Chairman's panel at the beginning of each session. (See Bills (Public).)

MOTIONS.—Every proceeding in Parliament is based on a motion made by a Member (and seconded, if required), which is put from the Chair and decided by the House, if necessary, upon a division. A substantive motion generally requires notice and can only be made by the Member in whose name it stands on the Order Paper, except a motion standing in the name of a Member of the Government, which can be moved by any other Minister. (Certain formal motions mainly relating to the transaction of business do not require notice.) A motion can only be withdrawn by the unanimous leave of the House. In the Lords a seconder is not required except, by custom, for the address in reply to the King's Speech; in the Commons a seconder is not required for a motion made in committee, or for an order of the day, or for a motion made by a Minister or Privy Councillor.

After the motion has been seconded, the Speaker proposes the question and debate proceeds. It is then open to any member to move an amendment, of which prior notice need not be given, unless it be an amendment to the motion for the Speaker's leaving the Chair on first going into Committee of Supply, or a new clause on the report stage of a bill, although it is usual to give notice of important amendments to a bill or motion. Amendments moved in the House require a seconder; in committee amendments do not require a seconder, and if notice has been given they can be moved by any Member. A question proposed from the Chair may be amended by omitting certain words in order to insert other words, or by leaving out certain words or by inserting or adding other words. According to the practice outside Parliament, when an amendment has been moved, it is usual to give precedence to the amendment over the motion on which it is moved; but in Parliament the practice is to give precedence to the original question in the following manner:

The Speaker or Chairman, in the case of an amendment to leave out words in order to insert other words, reads to the House the original motion, next the amendment, and then says, "the question I have to put is, that the words proposed to be left out (i.e. by the amendment) stand part of the question." Should the "Noes" prevail, the amendment then becomes a substantive motion, upon which other amendments may be moved, and considered in like manner as the first. It is sometimes erroneously supposed that a Member who is adverse both to the original question and to the proposed amendment would express an opinion favourable to the question by voting "that the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question." By such a course, however, he merely declares his opinion to be adverse to the amendment. If, however, he is equally opposed to the motion and to the amendment, he may vote with the "Noes" on both. (See Question, Putting of; Committees; Closure; Selection of Amendments.)

NAMING A MEMBER.—If a Member is guilty of persistent disorder, the Speaker calls the particular attention of the House to him and to his conduct by calling upon the Member by his name, and thereby shows that such Member has incurred the displeasure and censure of the House. When the Speaker has named a Member, a motion must be made forthwith that the Member be suspended from the service of the House. (See also Conduct of Member.)

NEW PARLIAMENT; ELECTION OF SPEAKER, ETC.—On the day appointed by Royal Proclamation for the return of the writs, after a General Election, the Members meet in each House. In the House of Lords the Commissioners representing the Sovereign sit. On the arrival of the Commons at the Bar of the Lords, in response to a message desiring their attendance to hear the Commission read, both Houses are informed by the Lord Chancellor, one of the five Lords Commissioners, that as soon as the Members of both Houses have been sworn, the Sovereign will declare the cause of their being called together; and the Commons are then directed to proceed to their chamber forthwith, and there elect a Speaker who is to be presented next day for the Sovereign's approval. The Lord Chancellor takes the oath, followed by other Peers, and the House adjourns to the next day. Meanwhile, the Commons proceed in their own House to elect their Speaker. The process of election is, briefly, as follows: The Clerk of the House rises in his place at the table and points to a Member (previously prepared as to the course that is to be taken), and without having spoken a word he (the Clerk) sits down again. The Member indicated then rises, and, addressing the Clerk, proposes that some other Member (who also has been previously prepared for the motion) "do take the Chair of this House as Speaker." The motion is seconded by another Member. (The mover and seconder are usually senior Members chosen from different sides of the House.) On the motion being carried, and the Member proposed to be elected expressing his willingness to accept the office, the Speaker-elect is conducted to the Chair, from which he addresses the House in a speech of thanks, etc. If another Member is proposed for the office, the claims of each nominee are discussed in a debate, and decided upon, if necessary, by a division. The Mace, which had been placed below the table, is now laid thereon where thereafter it always appears during the sittings of the House with Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Next day the Speaker-elect, at the head of the Commons, presents himself to the Royal Commissioners attending in the House of Lords to receive him, and the Sovereign's approval of the election of the Speaker is accorded; Mr. Speaker afterwards making one of the speeches which give him his name, therein claiming, on behalf of the Commons, "all their ancient and undoubted rights and privileges." The Commons return to their House, when the Speaker reports the royal approbation, and proceeds to take the oath, and is followed by other Members. When the majority of Members of both Houses have been sworn, the King opens Parliament in full state, and declares the causes of summons in the Gracious Speech from the Throne. OFFICE (ACCEPTANCE OF).—See Chiltern Hundreds.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.—These are the stages of bills and other matters already ordered to be taken into consideration, and so forming part of the appointed business of each day's sitting. An Order of the Day may be superseded by an amendment substituting for it a resolution of the House; or become "dropped" when, if the order of the day is read, no action be taken thereon. Such orders as are not reached, owing to a prior adjournment of the House, are put down for the next sitting. For "Passing to the Orders of the Day," see Previous Question.

ORIGIN OF BILLS.—Generally speaking, with the Crown originate bills of amnesty;—in the House of Lords all bills relating to a restitution in blood and to restitution of honours;—in the House of Commons all bills relating to the public income and expenditure, which must receive the previous recommendation of the Crown. Bills affecting the royal prerogative require the consent of the Crown. It has always been held that in the Lords should originate bills of "pains and penalties," or other measures founded upon oral testimony, mainly because the Commons has not always the power possessed by the Lords of examining witnesses upon oath.

PARLIAMENT.—The Commons are not the Parliament, neither are the Lords nor the Crown; but the Sovereign and three "Estates" of the realm, the lords spiritual, the lords temporal, and the commons, united, constitute the High Court of Parliament, and exercise the legislative functions of the realm; though it is usual to speak of the King, Lords, and Commons as the "three branches of the Legislature." A peer is as much a member of Parliament as a commoner, while the Crown is a whole estate of Parliament centred in the person of an individual. The two Houses convened by royal authority, and acting jointly with the Crown, constitute the Legislature of Parliament; and its acts are called indifferently "Statutes" or "Acts of Parliament"; they have the full force and effect of law. (See Bills.) Parliament fully assembled consists of the King, with the two estates of the peerage, sitting in one House, and the Commonalty by their representatives standing below the bar. Neither of the Houses ever deliberates in the presence of the Sovereign, nor will either of them permit any allusion in debate to his sentiments. The King, Lords, and Commons, in their united character, exercise none but the legislative functions. Taken together they are the Parliament. The power of Parliament is held to be transcendent, and subject to no limitation whatever. An Act of Parliament binds every subject, and even the Sovereign, when specially named therein; and no authority less than that of Parliament can dispense with or abrogate a statute. In addition to this legislative character, common to the three, each has separate functions peculiar to itself. In the Sovereign resides the whole executive authority. The House of Lords exercises judicial authority as a Court of Ultimate Appeal, and as a tribunal to which great officers of State, impeached by the other House, are amenable. See also House of Lords, and House of Commons.

PEERS OF PARLIAMENT.—The Peerage of Great Britain and Ireland may be described as consisting of, 1st, the Peers of England; 2ndly, those of Scotland; 3rdly, those of Ireland; 4thly, those of Great Britain; and 5thly, those of the United Kingdom; according to their patents of creation. In the House of Lords, all Peers of England have seats and votes, so have all of Great Britain, and of the United Kingdom. It frequently happens that Peers of England, Great Britain, or the United Kingdom, hold an equal or superior rank in the peerage of Scotland or that of Ireland; in which case, though popularly known by the higher dignity, they still have seats and votes in the House as of the inferior rank. It sometimes happens also that the eldest son of a Peer has a seat in the House during the lifetime of his father. The Peers of Scotland and Ireland have a place in the House only by their representatives, of whom Ireland sends twenty-eight, who are elected for life (none however have been chosen since the constitution of the Irish Free State), and Scotland sixteen, chosen for each new Parliament. By the Act of Union, no Irish Peer enjoying a British dignity can be elected a Representative Peer. But the case of an Irish Representative obtaining an English Peerage after his election was not adverted to; there have consequently been Irish representatives sitting by their Irish dignities, though holding also English baronies. Irish Peers, not representative, may sit in the House of Commons for other than Irish constituencies, but Scottish Peers may not. In addition to the hereditary Peers of Parliament, the six Judges of Appeal have the dignity of Barons for life. The two Archbishops and twenty-four of the English Bishops have seats in the House of Lords, not as Peers, but as Lords Spiritual of Parliament. The Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the Bishops of London, Durham and Winchester sit as of right; the others take seats by seniority of consecration, the junior Bishops being for the time excluded. The Bishop of Sodor and Man has no vote in Parliament. The Welsh Bishops ceased to hold seats in 1920.

PETITIONS.—These must proceed from British subjects or foreigners resident in this country. When intended for the House of Lords, a petition must be addressed, "To the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled"; when addressed to the House of Commons, it should be directed, "To the Honourable the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland in Parliament assembled." Its commencement must describe the petitioners thus: "The humble petition of the electors of the parish of——showeth that," etc., or, in the case of an individual, his name and occupation must be stated thus. "The humble petition of John Brown, carpenter, showeth that," etc. The statement of grievance must then follow; and the whole must conclude with a specific prayer. The omission of a prayer is fatal to the reception of a petition, for no mere remonstrance or detail of grievances will be received. The prayer should be thus introduced: "Wherefore your petitioners pray that your Honourable House will be pleased to grant, etc.", the particular relief expected being here stated. To the whole petition must be added the words, "And your petitioners as in duty bound will ever pray, etc."; immediately thereupon must follow the signatures; of which one at least must be on the same sheet of paper, or skin or parchment, as the petition—not pasted or otherwise appended. The signatures or marks must be original—not copies nor signatures of agents on behalf of others, except in the case of illness; thus no chairman of a public meeting can sign for the whole meeting; in the case of such an informality the petition is received only as that of the individual signing. But the common seal of a Corporation is received as the petition of the whole corporate body. The address of each petitioner must be affixed to this signature. Only signatures which are written on sheets headed in every case with the prayer of the petition will be valid; but on all sheets after the first, the prayer may be reproduced in print or by other mechanical process. The first sheet must be in writing on parchment or on paper, free from erasures or interlineations, and composed in English, or accompanied by a translation, which the presenting member certifies to be correct; but no letters, affidavits, or other documents can be annexed. Petitions are rejected if not respectful and temperate in language, free from disrespectful language to the Sovereign or offensive imputations upon the character and conduct of either House of Parliament, the Courts of Justice, or other constituted authorities. No reference is permitted to any debates, or to any motions supposed to be in preparation; while petitions praying for a grant of public money or for the remission of customs stamps, or other duties (when payable by any person) can only be received on the recommendation of the Crown; though petitions which pray for legislation involving expenditure do not need to be so recommended. The presenting Member is expected to affix his name to the beginning of the petition, as well as to examine whether all the necessary conditions have been complied with. No debate is allowed on the presentation of a petition, unless it complains of some present personal grievance; other petitions are referred to the Committee on Public Petitions. Petitions for presentation may be forwarded by post, free of charge, to any member of either House, in parcels open at the ends, marked outside, "Parliamentary Petitions," and not exceeding 32 ounces in weight. A Member may present a petition before Questions by rising in his place and making a brief statement of the source of the petition, the number of signatures and subject-matter, and reading the prayer, or by placing it in the bag kept at the back of the Speaker's Chair during the sitting of the House. The Corporations of the Cities of London and Dublin have the right to present their petitions directly at the bar, through their Sheriffs and Lord Mayors respectively, without the intervention of a Member.

PRESS GALLERY.—The gallery above the Speaker's chair is set apart for the use of the reporters for the press and for the Official Report (Hansard). (See also Strangers.)

PREVIOUS QUESTION, MOVING THE.—When a motion has been made upon which the House is unwilling to come to a decision the motion can be withheld from the decision of the House by moving the Previous Question. The form of the Previous Question in the House of Commons is "That that Question (i.e. the original motion) be not now put," or "That the House do now proceed to the Orders of the Day." If the Previous Question be agreed to, the original motion cannot be put from the Chair, though it can be proposed on a subsequent occasion, but if the Previous Question is defeated the original question must be put there and then to the vote. The Previous Question cannot be moved in committee, on any amendment or on a motion relating to the transaction of public business or the meeting of the House. In the House of Lords the form for the Previous Question is "whether the original question be now put."

PRIVATE MEMBERS' TIME.—The Standing Order allocating time for Private Members' business is in two sections, applicable according to the date the session commences: (1) When the session begins in February, every Wednesday until Easter is set apart for Private Members' Motions; every Friday up to Easter and the first four after Easter Day for the second reading of Private Members' Bills; and the third, fourth, fifth and sixth Fridays after Whit-Sunday are available for the remaining stages. (2) When the session begins in the autumn (in October or November), Private Members have every Wednesday up to Christmas and between the date of re-assembly after the Christmas adjournment until Easter, except that the Government have precedence immediately before Good Friday on a number of Wednesdays equal to the number devoted to Private Members' business before Christmas; Friday sittings are allocated for bills up to Christmas and between the re-assembly after the recess until Easter, except that the Government is recompensed by having precedence immediately before Good Friday on a number of Fridays equal to the number (reduced by three) devoted to Private Members' business before Christmas. (This number is reduced by three in order to maintain a fair balance between Government and Private Members' time.) The report and third reading stages of bills are taken on the second, third, fourth and fifth Fridays after Easter Day.

At Wednesday sittings, when Private Members' business has precedence, the proceedings are interrupted at half-past seven if the first motion has not been disposed of, and the second motion called.

Private Members' time usually starts during the second week of the session. In a normal session Private Members would be entitled on an average to twelve Fridays for second readings and four for later stages of bills, and eight Wednesdays for motions. During the wars, owing to pressure of public business, the Government have taken the whole time of the House, and in recent years Private Members have sometimes been deprived of part, if not the whole, of their time. (See Ballot for Private Members' Bills and Motions.)

PRIVILEGES OF PARLIAMENT.—These are of three kinds: 1st, the privileges which appertain to members individually; 2nd, those which belong to either House in its collective capacity; 3rd, those of both Houses jointly. From well-known precedents it appears that the Lords and Commons, acting concurrently, can assume the supreme power whenever the throne is vacant, or the Sovereign incapable of exercising the royal functions. The separate privileges of either House are extensive, but they are, at the same time, uncertain and indefinite. Amongst them are the power of committing individuals to prison, the power of publishing matters which, if not issuing from such high authority, might become the subject of proceedings in a court of law, the power of directing the Attorney-General to prosecute persons accused of offences against the laws, or affecting the privilege of Parliament, and, finally, a power vested in each House respectively of doing anything in accordance with the law of Parliament which may be necessary for the vindication or protection of itself in the exercise of its own constitutional functions. In the daily proceedings of Parliament questions of privilege take precedence of all other business. The privileges of individual Members of Parliament are freedom of speech and person, including freedom from arrest and imprisonment in civil cases. Parliamentary privilege, however, does not extend to indictable offences, to contempts of the courts of justice, or to cases made felonies and misdemeanours by the laws of bankruptcy. A Member adjudged bankrupt is debarred from sitting or voting in the House, and, unless he is discharged, his seat becomes vacant after six months. Members of Parliament are exempt from obeying subpoenas, and serving on juries. But it is customary for the House to grant leave of absence to Members summoned as witnesses. "Privilege of Parliament" continues to Peers at all times and to Commoners for a "convenient" time after prorogation and dissolution.

Peers are entitled to be present at the coronation of the Sovereign, and if Parliament be in session at the time, it was customary for both Houses to attend, but on occasions members have only attended by invitation and the Commons have been represented by their Speaker. Peers cannot be outlawed in any civil action, nor can any attachment lie against their persons; they are exempt from attending courts-leet, or the posse-comitatus; when arraigned for any criminal offence, it must be before their peers, who return a verdict, not upon oath, but upon honour; they also have the privilege of sitting covered in courts of justice. Peers becoming bankrupt, or in Scotland having their estates sequestrated, are disqualified from sitting or voting until after the bankruptcy is annulled, or the debts discharged. (See also Committals for Breach of Privilege.)

PROGRESS, MOTION TO REPORT.—A Committee of the whole House cannot adjourn its sittings, or any proceeding therein, to a further day. If the transactions with which a Committee is charged are not completed, in the Lords when the House is resumed, the Chairman moves, "That the House be again put into Committee" on a future day, and in the Commons, he reports "progress," and asks leave to sit again.

The motion that the Chairman do report progress is also used in Committee in order to interrupt or to arrest the procedure therein, in the same way that motions for adjournment are moved in the House. (See Dilatory Motions.)

PROROGATION.—See Sitzings of Parliament, Interruption of.

PROVISIONAL ORDER.—See Bills (Private).

QUESTION, PUTTING OF FROM THE CHAIR.—After a question has been proposed from the Chair and the ensuing debate is closed, the Speaker rises and reads the question to the House, beginning with "The question is that." He then takes the sense of the House by desiring that "As many as are of that opinion say 'Aye,'" and "As many as are of the contrary opinion say 'No.'" The Speaker then says, according to the preponderance of voices "I think the Ayes (or Noes) have it," and if that statement be not challenged he finally declares, "So the Ayes (or the Noes) have it," and the question is resolved in affirmative or negative. If, however, the Speaker's statement is challenged, a division follows. (See Divisions; Debate, Rules of; Motions.)

In the Lords, when a motion has been made a question is usually proposed "that the motion be agreed to," and the forms of voices are "Contents" and "Not contents."

QUESTIONS TO MINISTERS.—Questions to Ministers are taken on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, not later than three o'clock, and occupy about three quarters of an hour. Notice of a question must be given in writing to the Clerk at the Table, and if an oral answer is desired it must be marked with an asterisk, and one clear day's notice given. A Member is not entitled to ask more than three oral questions at the same sitting, but may put supplementary questions to elucidate answers given by ministers (questions requiring written answers are not limited in number). If there is time before a quarter to four the Speaker goes through the questions a second time, calling those which were not put on the first round. The answer to a question not reached or not asked is printed in the Official Report, unless the Member has previously notified his desire to postpone the question. No questions are taken after a quarter to four, except those which have not been answered in consequence of the absence of a minister, or private notice questions allowed by the Speaker on grounds of urgency.

In the Lords, debate is permitted on a question, but when it is intended to raise a discussion on asking a question, notice is required to be given.

QUORUM.—See House of Lords and House of Commons.

RESIGNATIONS.—See Chiltern Hundreds.

RESOLUTION.—A Resolution of the House is a formal expression of the opinions or purposes of the House. This form is used when the House arrives at decisions regarding its future conduct, such as are embodied in the Standing Orders, or when the House gives expression to its collective opinion, as in a resolution that the Ministry do not possess the confidence of the House, or when the House expresses an adverse opinion upon a bill by substituting for the motion that the bill be read a second time, a declaration that, for specified reasons, it is undesirable that the bill should become law.

When the House determines that a return should be made to the House, or that a matter should be dealt with on a future day, its decision takes the form of an Order. See also Orders of the Day.

ROYAL ASSENT.—The act by which the Crown agrees to a bill which has passed both Houses is called "The Royal Assent," which may be given by the Sovereign in person robed, crowned, and seated on the throne in the House of Lords, or the royal assent may be given by commissioners appointed by the Crown for that special purpose and for the single occasion. The forms observed in both cases do not vary, and are as follows: The Lords being assembled in their own House, the Sovereign or the Commissioners seated, and the Commons at the bar, the titles of the several bills which have passed both Houses are read, and the King's answer is declared by the Clerk of the Parliaments in Norman-French. To a bill of supply (which on being presented by the Speaker has the precedence of other bills) the assent is given in the following words: "Le roy remercie ses bons sujets, accepte leur benevolence et ainsi le veut." To public bills it is given in these terms: "Le roy le veut." To a private bill it is thus declared: "Soit fait comme il est désiré." Should the Sovereign refuse assent, it is in the gentle language of "Le roy s'avisera." As acts of grace and amnesty originate with the Crown, the clerk expressing the gratitude of the subject addresses the throne as follows: "Les prelates, seigneurs et communes, en ce present Parlement assemblez au nom de iours vos autres sujets remercient tres humblement vostre maieste, et prient a Dieu vous donner en sante bonne vie et longue," but the assent has been given to such bills in the usual form as to a public bill. The moment the royal assent has been given, that which was a bill becomes an Act, and instantly has the force and effect of law, unless some date for the commencement of its operation should have been provided in the Act itself.

SELECTION OF AMENDMENTS.—The Speaker and, in Committee of the whole House, the Chairman of Ways and Means and the deputy Chairman, have, in respect of any motion or bill, power to select the new clauses or amendments which are proposed.

It is within the discretion of the Chair to call upon any Member to give an explanation of the object of an amendment before deciding whether or not to allow it to be moved. The Chairman of a Standing Committee has a similar power to select amendments. (See Motions.)

SERJEANT-AT-ARMS.—There are two officers bearing this title, appointed by the Crown to attend the Houses of Parliament, and each has a deputy. In the House of Lords, the maintenance of decorum below the bar, near the throne, and in the gallery, devolves upon the gentleman and yeoman usher of the Black Rod, with their assistants, so that "the Serjeant-at Arms attending the House of Lords" has less conspicuous duties to perform than those which devolve upon "the Serjeant attending the House of Commons"; both, however, execute the commands of the House to which they belong, as regards the apprehension or custody of all persons committed by order of Parliament. In the House of Commons, the Serjeant-at-Arms is an officer of considerable importance, assisted by a deputy serjeant and assistant serjeant; during the sittings of the House he occupies a chair close to the bar and he directs a large proportion of the arrangements connected with the maintenance of order in the approaches to the House and the offices adjacent, and controls the arrangements for the admission of strangers to the public galleries. He is at once the executive and the ceremonial officer of the lower House. He discharges the duties appertaining to his office, and gives effect to the directions of the House, communicated through the Speaker.

SESSION.—The term session, applied to the sittings of any public assembly, would be generally understood to signify the period during which it sat without any intermission or recess; but in Parliamentary language the term has a more extensive signification. Unless Parliament be prorogued, the session is not closed. The limitation to one year of the duration of the Army Act and financial necessities compel the Crown, in order that the government of the country may be carried on, to resort to an annual assembling of Parliament.

The circumstance of either or both Houses adjourning their sittings, whether with or without the recommendation of the Crown, does not terminate the session. To effect that, there must be the prorogation of Parliament, under a royal commission, or by the Sovereign in person. The progress which a measure makes in one session does not influence its position in the next, or in any other, for if not completed before prorogation it must in any following session be commenced de novo; though private bills are occasionally suspended from one session to another.

The prorogation of Parliament is to a specified date which may be either postponed or advanced by proclamation. Both Houses being assembled on the day appointed for the commencement of the new session, the Sovereign meets them in the House of Lords, either in person, or by Lords Commissioners, and declares the causes of the summons by a Speech, prepared beforehand by the Cabinet. The business usually transacted on the first day of every session is the consideration of an address in reply to the speech from the throne; but for "form's sake," a bill always receives a first reading in each House, in order to show the right of Parliament to deliberate without reference to the immediate cause of summons. The consideration of the King's speech has been delayed by discussions on other subjects, but generally the practice is to proceed with it at the afternoon sitting, namely, in about two or three hours after the speech has been delivered.

The duration of the session used to be from February to August, with sittings later in the year for the completion of business, though recently the Government have favoured beginning the session before Christmas (in November) and ending it in July, but no number or lengths of adjournments destroys its continuity. (See Sittings of Parliament; New Parliament; Meeting, Hours of.)

SITTINGS OF PARLIAMENT, INTERRUPTION OF, ETC.—

The proceedings of Parliament may be interrupted or suspended either by adjournment, prorogation, or dissolution. Adjournment as the term implies, is a postponement of the sitting or proceedings of either House of Parliament from one time to another specified for the reassembling of the House. The interruption of the sittings of both Houses by royal authority is called prorogation, and usually marks the formal close of a session. Dissolution puts an end to the representative character of the individuals who at the time compose the House of Commons as well as to that of the Scottish Representative Peers, and Parliament cannot again assemble until after a general election.

The power of adjournment is inherent in each House respectively. Either House may interrupt or postpone any debate, defer the consideration of any measure, or adjourn its sittings. The Lords frequently adjourn "during pleasure," which means that the Lord Chancellor or other Speaker of the House may, in the exercise of his discretion, take his seat on the woolsack, two other Peers being present, and resume business at any hour within the day on which such adjournment "during pleasure" has taken place, otherwise their Lordships' House will stand adjourned to the usual hour of meeting on the following day. The Commons, on the contrary, always adjourn to a time specified, though the suspension of a sitting sometimes takes place. The adjournment of one House is no adjournment of the other. The Crown may, during an adjournment or prorogation, summon both Houses by proclamation to meet on a day not earlier than six days from the date of the proclamation. The pleasure of the Crown may be signified that both Houses should adjourn to a specified day; this intimation is contrary to modern usage, and has not been exercised since 1814. Adjournment does not close the session; prorogation does not terminate the Parliament; the former is an act of either House; the latter an act of the Crown, whereby the duration of a session may be extended or curtailed, according to the royal pleasure, subject to Act of Parliament. Power has been given by each House during a long adjournment to the Lord Chancellor and the Speaker respectively to call the House together on a day earlier than that to which it stands adjourned, if on an intimation from the Government the Lord Chancellor and the Speaker are satisfied that the public interest requires an earlier meeting. In pursuance of this power, Parliament met in 1924 to deal with Irish legislation; in 1931 to deal with the financial crisis; in 1932 to deal with the Ottawa Conference legislation; and on subsequent occasions to deal with crises in foreign affairs.

All unfinished proceedings (except an impeachment, and an appeal to the House of Lords) are quashed by prorogation; but during an adjournment they remain in statu quo. Prorogation is effected at the close of a session by royal commission, and then by proclamation until it is intended that Parliament should assemble for the despatch of business. Prorogation has been resorted to in order to admit the reintroduction, otherwise not possible, of a bill which has been rejected by the Lords. In case of the embodiment of the Territorial Force, Parliament, if not sitting, must be summoned within ten days, and the issue of a proclamation under the Emergency Powers Act, 1920, declaring that a state of emergency exists requires the meeting of Parliament within five days.

Dissolution is the civil death of Parliament, and may be effected by the pleasure of the Crown, or by lapse of time. Parliament under the Septennial Act, 1715, ceased to exist after seven years from the day on which by the writ of summons it was appointed to meet. Under the Parliament Act, 1911, five years was substituted as the time for the maximum duration of Parliament, but this period was extended several times during the wars of 1914 and 1939.

If Parliament at the time of the Sovereign's death be separated by adjournment or prorogation it must assemble immediately. If no Parliament be then in existence, the members of the last must again meet and may serve as a Parliament for six months, unless sooner prorogued; and so much importance appears to be attached to an instant assembling, that upon the demise of the Crown even the intervention of Sunday has not been permitted to delay the meeting of both Houses. (See also Session.)

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS (DUTIES OF).—

This great officer, who presides over the deliberations of the House, was anciently, as at present, the organ or spokesman of the Commons, and delivers speeches on their behalf. His symbol of office is the mace, which is carried before him when he enters or leaves the House. Amongst the duties of the Speaker are the following: he reads to the Sovereign addresses from the Commons, and delivers, in the Royal presence, whether at the Palace or in the House of Lords, such speeches as are usually made on behalf of the Commons. He proposes and puts each question for the decision of the House, and, if necessary, directs the House to divide thereon, and appoints the tellers; he calls on the Members who rise to speak; he puts questions in the name of the House, when witnesses or prisoners are at the bar; reprimands persons who incur the displeasure of the House; issues warrants for new writs for the election of a Member; and makes communications in writing, when so instructed by the House.

He is the guardian of the rights and privileges of the House. He expresses the thanks or approbation of the Commons to distinguished personages; holds levées and entertains the Members at dinner in due succession and at stated periods; and in the Chaplain's absence he reads prayers.

He maintains order in the House, either by the authority of his position, or under the standing and other orders of the House. The Speaker names Members who persist in disorder (see Naming a Member). In extreme cases the Speaker may order Members or others into custody until the pleasure of the House be signified. The Speaker does not vote in divisions except when the votes are equal. He ceases to belong to a party on his election to the Chair, and no longer takes part in debate or votes in committee. When Parliament is prorogued by the Sovereign, it is customary for the Speaker to address to the Throne from the bar of the House of Lords a speech recapitulating the proceedings of the session.

His Privileges, Appointment, and Rank.—He is chosen by the House of Commons from amongst its own members, subject to the approval of the Crown, and holds office till the dissolution of the Parliament in which he was elected, and is usually re-elected in the new Parliament. His salary is a charge on the Consolidated Fund and he is provided with a furnished residence in the Palace of Westminster. At the end of his term of office he is usually made a Peer and receives a pension. He is a member of the Privy Council and ranks next after the Lord President of the Council.

During the unavoidable absence of the Speaker, the Chairman of Ways and Means presides in his stead, and during the sitting of the House, the Speaker may request the Chairman of Ways and Means or Deputy-Chairman to take the Chair as Deputy-Speaker,

- See also Closure of Debate, Conduct of Members,ittings of the House, Chairman of Committee of Ways and Means, New Parliament, etc.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS.—The Lord Chancellor is by prescription Speaker of the House of Lords. He is usually, but not necessarily, a peer. There are always Deputy Speakers appointed by commission to act as Speaker during the absence of the Lord Chancellor, and when the Lord Chancellor and the Deputy Speakers are absent the House appoints any Lord to act temporarily as Speaker. The Speaker of the House of Lords, unlike the Speaker of the Commons, has no power or authority in matters of order. He puts the question from the Woolsack; he may speak in debate and votes in divisions, but has no casting vote. (See also Lord High Chancellor and New Parliament.)

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.—~~See~~ Session.

STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS.—Both Houses have at various times passed Standing Orders for the guidance and order of their proceedings. These orders do not, however, provide a complete code of procedure, the greater part of which is based upon custom, precedent and rulings from the Chair. The Standing Orders are permanent, although they are sometimes suspended in each House for a particular purpose on motion being made, of which notice is usually required.

The Sessional Orders and Resolutions are required to be renewed at the commencement of each session. Those passed in the Commons relate to double elections, inability of Peers to vote at elections, bribery and corruption at elections, tampering with witnesses, false evidence, clearing of the approaches to the House, printing of votes and proceedings, and the appointment of the Committee of Privileges.

Many resolutions governing the procedure of the House made in past Parliaments are continually observed and have by custom received the force and operative effect of a Standing Order.

STRANGERS.—It is contrary to the Standing Orders of the House of Lords that strangers should be present during the sittings, although they are in practice admitted below the bar and to the galleries. At one time the Commons by sessional order excluded strangers. The publication of debates is theoretically a breach of privilege. But secret deliberation by Parliament has been so long renounced that the right of the public to be present through their agents, the Reporters, is as clearly established as if no theoretical privacy had ever existed. Occasions have arisen, however, though at long intervals, when the House has thought proper to exclude strangers; by a Standing Order, strangers may be excluded by a motion carried without amendment or debate, though the Speaker or Chairman retains the power to order the withdrawal of strangers from any part of the House. A number of sittings, or portions of sittings were held in secret during the war of 1914-18, and again during the present war. In January, 1918, the Lords resolved that the privilege of a Member of the Commons House being present at debates in the Lords should not be withdrawn on the occasion of a secret sitting, and the Commons amended their Standing Orders to provide that the withdrawal of strangers in their House should not apply to Peers.

SUPPLY.—All proceedings which relate to the public income or expenditure must originate with the House of Commons, and are commenced by the demand in the Speech from the Throne for a supply of money to maintain the public services. In response to this demand, as soon as the address in reply to the King's Speech has been agreed to, the Committees of Supply and Ways and Means are set up. The main function of the former Committee is to vote grants to meet public expenditure, and of the latter to provide the public income by the imposition of taxation to meet expenditure, as well as to authorise the issue out of the Consolidated Fund of the grants voted by the Committee of Supply. The grant of supply by the Committee is founded on the estimates of annual expenditure for Navy, Army, Air and Civil Services presented by the Government, and is made by resolutions passed in Committee of Supply, then by the House on report, and finally confirmed by Act of Parliament.

On first going into Committee of Supply on the Navy, Army, Air and Civil estimates, a motion is made "that Mr. Speaker do now leave the Chair," which maintains the ancient doctrine of redress of grievances before the grant of supply. Members ballot for the privilege of moving amendments to this Question, which must be relevant to the subject matter of the estimate to be discussed. It is customary for the minister in charge of each of the fighting departments to make his annual general statement upon the motion "That Mr. Speaker do now leave the Chair."

The estimates are presented in February and March, and consideration of the business of supply proceeds throughout the session until the passing of the Appropriation Bill in July. The financial system requires that before the end of the financial year (March 31st) all supplementary estimates relating to expenditure in the year expiring shall be passed, as well as sufficient money, in the form of a "Vote on Account," to carry on the public services in the new financial year in advance of the full grants. A Consolidated Fund bill is also passed, giving provisional authority for the issue of the money.

The Standing Orders allot a minimum of twenty days before the 5th of August (allotted Supply days) for the consideration of the ordinary estimates of the year, including votes on account; and up to three days, either before or after the 5th of August, may be added to this number if the House so decides. The days allotted do not include days when the question has to be put to move Mr. Speaker out of the Chair, or when supplementary estimates relating to a previous session or a vote of credit, or votes required for supplementary or additional estimates for war expenditure or for any new service not included in the ordinary estimates for the year, are taken. On an allotted day the business of Supply must be the first order, and no business other than Supply can be taken before eleven o'clock, and no business in committee or on report of Supply can be taken after eleven unless the House otherwise orders on the motion of the Government. (Opposed private business, and motions for the adjournment of the House on matters of urgent Public importance, which are taken at seven-thirty, or matters concerning privilege can, however, be taken on allotted Supply days.) Two Fridays are equivalent to one allotted day. Not more than one allotted day is given to the Committee stage of a vote on account, and not more than one day to the report stage, and the Chair is directed at eleven o'clock on the days when the vote on account is taken to put forthwith the questions necessary to dispose of the vote. The Chair is also directed at ten o'clock on the last two allotted days to put the questions necessary to dispose of all the outstanding votes in committee and on report. This is the so-called "guillotine," which concludes the work of the Committee of Supply in voting the money required for the year. There is no further debate when the "guillotine" falls, but Members have the opportunity of voting on the different classes of estimates. The Appropriation Bill is founded on the resolutions which are then proposed in committee of Ways and Means. The Consolidated Fund Bill, which is passed in March, gives provisional authority for the issue of money out of the Consolidated Fund, and the Appropriation Bill, which is passed when all the supply of the year has been voted, gives the final authority and allots to each service the sum which may be spent thereon.

According to custom, the Opposition have the choice of estimates to be discussed on allotted days, and debates usually take place on matters of Government policy rather than detailed criticism of expenditure.

All grants of supply are preceded by a demand from the Crown, and therefore must be proposed by the Government. The Committee of Supply may allow or refuse a grant, or reduce the total, or omit or reduce items of expenditure; but amendments cannot be proposed, whether by a minister or any other member, to increase the amount specified in the estimate. If an increase is necessary the original estimate must be withdrawn and a revised estimate presented. Matters requiring legislation cannot be discussed in Committee of Supply.

It is the duty of the Comptroller and Auditor-General, who is appointed by letters patent and removable only on an address by both Houses of Parliament, to control the issue of money sanctioned by Parliament and to audit all public accounts. His reports are made to Parliament, and form the basis of the work of the Public Accounts Committee which is appointed each session. A Select Committee is also appointed to examine the estimates of the year and report what economies can be made "consistent with the policy implied in those estimates." (See Ways and Means.)

SUSPENSION OF A MEMBER.—See Conduct of Members.

TEN MINUTES RULE.—This is a method of introducing a bill under what is known as the "Ten minutes rule," because the speeches for and against the motion are in practice limited to ten minutes each. A motion for leave to bring in a bill (of which notice is required) may be made at the commencement of public business on Tuesdays and Wednesdays by Private Members, and on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays by the Government. If such a motion is opposed, the Speaker, after permitting, if he thinks fit, a brief explanatory statement from the Member who moves and from the Member who opposes, may without further debate put the question thereon, or the question that the debate be now adjourned. Motions for the nomination of Select Committees may be made under the same procedure. (See Bills (Public).)

URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE, MOTIONS ON MATTERS OF.—See Adjournment.

VACATING SEATS.—See Chiltern Hundreds.

WAYS AND MEANS (COMMITTEE OF).—The Committee of Supply (see Supply) votes the annual public expenditure of the nation, and the Committee of Ways and Means finds the money by the levy of taxation to meet the Supply granted. All loans, duties, taxes, tolls, revenue, and imposts must be first considered in a Committee of the whole House, whilst the imposition of taxation for the service of the year is reserved for the Committee of Ways and Means. The proposals of the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the levy of taxation are voted in the form of separate resolutions, which, having been agreed to by the House, are embodied in the Finance Bill. As in the case of other money bills, the Lords may reject, but cannot modify such a bill; nor can their Lordships insert pecuniary penalties in any bill, unless it be a private bill. The Consolidated Fund and Appropriation Bills are founded upon resolutions proposed in Committee of Ways and Means. (See Appropriation Bill; Budget; Consolidated Fund; Supply.)

WOMEN IN THE COMMONS.—In November, 1918, a short Act of Parliament was passed enacting that "a woman shall not be disqualified by sex or marriage for being elected to or sitting or voting as a member of the Commons House of Parliament." No age limit being imposed by the Act, it was contended that while women might not vote till they were thirty years old, they were eligible for election to the House of Commons at the age of twenty-one. The matter was set at rest in 1928 by the granting of votes to women at the age of twenty-one. The first woman member to take her seat in the House of Commons was Viscountess Astor, who was returned for the Sutton division of Plymouth in November, 1919. (The first woman elected was Mme. Markievicz for Dublin, St. Patrick's division, in 1918, but she did not take her seat.) (See House of Commons.)

WRITS.—The writs for the election of a new Parliament are issued by the Lord Chancellor upon a warrant from the Sovereign in Council and during a Parliament by order of the House or upon the Speaker's warrant. A motion for a writ to fill a vacancy caused by death, or by acceptance of a disqualifying office or government contract, or by accession to the peerage, or by bankruptcy or by lunacy, etc., is usually moved in the House of Commons by the Chief Whip of the party to which the member whose seat is vacated belonged. Power exists for vacancies caused by death, by acceptance of office and by accession to the peerage, to be filled when the House is in recess. On receipt of a notice signed by two members certifying the cause of the vacancy and applying for a new writ to be issued, the Speaker inserts a notice in the London Gazette and six days after such notice appears issues his warrant to the Clerk of the Crown for the preparation of a new writ to fill the vacancy. Similar power exists to fill a vacancy caused by bankruptcy, but writs cannot be issued during a recess on acceptance of the Chiltern Hundreds or similar offices or on account of lunacy.

SIZE OF PARLIAMENTS.

With the Union of Great Britain and Ireland the number of members of Parliament of the United Kingdom was fixed at 658. This number was adhered to by the Reform Act, 1832. In 1885

the total was increased to 670, and by the Act of 1918 to 707. With the creation of the Irish Free State in 1922, the Irish representation was reduced to 13 members from Ulster, making the membership of the House of Commons 615. In 1945, owing to the division of large Constituencies, the number was increased by 25 to 640.

LONG PARLIAMENTS.

The longest lived Parliaments in English history have been the Elizabethan Parliament of 1572-83, the Long Parliament of 1640-53, and the Pensionary Parliament of 1661-79. The War Parliament met on 31st January, 1911, and was dissolved on 25th November, 1918, when it had existed for seven years, nine months, and twenty-five days.

ELECTORAL DATES.

Representation of the People Acts, 1918-26, provide that at a General Election all polls shall be held on one day and that the day for nomination shall be the same in all constituencies, viz. the eighth day after the date of the proclamation; the poll on the ninth day after the date of the nomination. In the case of by-elections the dates are slightly different. In boroughs the day for nomination shall be not later than the seventh and in counties not later than the ninth day after receipt of the writ, with an interval of two clear days between the day of notice and the day of nomination in boroughs, and of three clear days in counties, the poll in both counties and boroughs taking place not less than six or more than eight clear days after the nomination. In calculating election dates, Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday, public fast and thanksgiving days are excluded.

The three months' qualifying period ends .	June 1st.
Lists to be published . . . . .	July 15th.
Last day for objections . . . . .	" 31st.
Last day for claims . . . . .	August 7th.
New register comes into force. . . . .	October 15th.

These dates are not the same for Scotland and Northern Ireland.

PARLIAMENTARY FRANCHISE.

Only British Subjects are entitled to the franchise.

A person must be 21 years of age and must have either a residence qualification or a business qualification.

A person can vote once in respect of residential qualification, and again, in another constituency, by virtue of any other qualification, or as the husband or wife of a person having such qualification.

A duly qualified elector can vote by Proxy by having his or her name put upon the absent voters' list within the qualifying period.

PARLIAMENTARY CANDIDATES.

Each Candidate must deposit £150 with the Returning Officer at the time of nomination. This sum is returned when he has taken the oath, if elected, or if he is not elected but has polled one-eighth of the number of votes polled, otherwise the deposit is forfeited.

The maximum expenditure which may be incurred by a candidate is sixpence for each elector in a County Constituency, fivepence for each elector in a single Borough Constituency, and threepence three farthings in a joint Borough Constituency. A further sum as part fee to the Election Agent of £75 for a County and £50 for a Borough Constituency is also allowed, and in addition £100 for the personal expenses of the Candidate, though this latter sum may be exceeded if paid through the Election Agent.

The Returning Officers' expenses are paid by the Treasury.

THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL.

(County Hall, S.E.1. [Waterloo 5000.])

The London County Council was constituted under the Local Government Act of 1888. It consists of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Deputy Chairman, chosen each year; 20 Aldermen, elected by the members of the Council for six years, half of whom retire every three years; and 124 Councillors, who are elected for three years. The present Council was elected March 4, 1937.

The Representation of People Act, 1945, provides that the Local Government Franchise shall include any person who has qualification as a Parliamentary Elector.

For the purposes of the election of members of the Council the administrative County of London is divided into 61 Electoral divisions; 60 divisions return 2 members each, and one, the City of London, returns 4 members.

The administrative functions formerly carried out by the Metropolitan Board of Works, the School Board for London, the Metropolitan Asylums Board and other Local Bodies are now vested in the Council.

H.M. conferred the right to the Style Right Honorable on the Chairman and his Successors, 1935.

Chairman, appointed March 1945. { The Rt. Hon. Charles Robertson.
Vice-Chairman " " Mrs. E. M. Newton, O.B.E.
